A Publication of the Friends of the Iowa Commission on the Status of Women • Vol. XXXIV, No. 3, May/June 2004

ICSW Composition Changes

Angelica Cardenas-Chaisson of Des Moines and Michael Whitlatch of Storm Lake have been appointed by the Governor and approved by the Senate for a two-year and four-year term respectively. Kimberly Painter of Iowa City, Holly Mennen-Sagar of Des Moines, and Francis Giunta of Dubuque will begin their second four-year terms.

Judge Brown, Jr. of Fort Dodge and Shawn Mullen of Des Moines have served on the Iowa Commission on the Status of Women for ten and eight years. Their comprehension of women's issues, sense of fairness and justice, along with their wit, interest, and dedication to tasks have been much appreciated, and they will be missed.

One opening remains unfilled for a male who is a Republican or No Party. Those interested may notify the Governor's Office of their interest by sending an appointment resume, which is available by phoning Suzanne Blouin at 515/281-0215 or at <http://www.governor.state.ia.us/boards/gubernatorial.PDF>.

Educational Grants

Friends of ICSW will be accepting applications until July 1, 2004, for assistance grants to low-income women to improve job skills, update professional licensing, enroll in English as a second language class, or attend an occupational seminar leading to increased employment opportunities.

The Friends' Endowment Fund's grants will not exceed a total of $900, and awards will be announced on August 21st during the fundraising luncheon.

Applicants may obtain a simple application form from the ICSW office at 515/281-4461 or 800/558-4427 or on the www.state.ia.us/dhr/sw web site.

Better Jobs Better Care Project

The Iowa CareGivers Association has a new project called Better Jobs Better Care (BJBC). BJBC is a 3-year, $1.4 million grant sponsored by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and Atlantic Philanthropies. Sixteen Iowa nursing homes and home care agencies have been selected as BJBC demonstration sites to improve patient care and at the same time, create opportunities for direct care workers to develop and use new skills. A mentor training program and training in person-centered care are featured. It is expected that the turnover rate of direct care workers will lower at these sites.

The ICSW is working with the BJBC Coalition to conduct a direct care worker Wage and Benefit Survey that updates the 2001 survey. Unlike the prior survey, this survey will include pool workers and home health workers. The Coalition will also be conducting a survey of nursing home administrators to find out what contributes or detracts from their job satisfaction. The results will be compared to earlier studies of CNA and supervisor job satisfaction to identify interventions that will improve the job satisfaction of all three groups.

An average caregiver is age 46, female, married and working outside the home...

“One national study on women and caregiving highlighted the conflicting demands of work and eldercare. The study found that: 33% of working women decreased work hours, 29% passed up a job promotion, training or assignment, 22% took a leave of absence, 20% switched from full-time to part-time employment, 16% quit their jobs, and 13% retired early.” Women and Caregiving: Facts and Figures by Family Caregiver Alliance (6/03)

Iowans in Transition Grants

The Iowa Commission on the Status of Women has issued a request for proposals (RFP) for grant awards to fund programs during state fiscal year 2005 providing services to displaced homemakers, single parents or female offenders. Awards are contingent upon receipt of funding by the 2004 General Assembly and signed by the Governor. The deadline for proposals is 4 p.m. on Friday, May 28, 2004 in the office of the Division on the Status of Women in the Iowa Department of Human Rights. For details, see the RFP under publications on the www.state.ia.us/dhr/sw web site or phone Ellen Failor at 515/281-4461 or 800/558-4427.

Gender-Specific Grant Awards

The Gender-Specific Services Task Force awarded Alternative Services in Cedar Rapids $30,000 during calendar year 2004 to provide services to meet the needs of young women involved in the child welfare/juvenile justice system and for those at risk for involvement in the system. These services are specifically defined as a community-wide planning project to intentionally meet the needs of those young women, as outlined in the request for application.

Three proposals were approved for grant funds with the responsibility to provide services to young women from different walks of life. These services are specifically defined as organizing local young women's empowerment event(s) that provide safe space for the young women to express themselves, learn leadership skills and make allies as outlined in the request for applications. Awards included the Winneshiek County Board of Supervisors in Decorah $2,650, City of Mason City Youth Task Force $4,743, and YWCA of Black Hawk County in Waterloo $6,700.

Whispers and Screams

Comments from the 2004 Whispers and Screams are hard to hear: Chapter 8 – Passages conference in March reviewed Thursday speaker Ruth Herman Wells with, “really got me thinking...set the tone for what we're here to do,” and Friday speaker Dr. Howard Snyder presented data “in fairly easy terms that were understandable” and “new avenues to think about.” Conference coordinator Kathy Nesteby reported 197 attended the conference, and evaluations showed that 49 percent found the overall content and level of information offered as excellent, 50 percent as good, and no one rated it as fair or poor. Another comment received was, “every year I get excited and recharged after the conference.”

Friends of the

Iowa Commission on the Status of Women

Friends is the not-for-profit organization formed in 1987 to support and assist in the charitable and educational activities of the Iowa Commission on the Status of Women. Due to the generosity of those who have made tax-deductible donations to the Friends and because of the fundraising events sponsored by the Friends each year, Friends has been able to support many worthwhile projects including:

- Payment for all costs associated with printing and mailing of the IoWoman newsletter and other ICSW materials, such as the Spanish translation of Iowa Women and the Law publication;
- Sponsorship of the Iowa Women's Hall of Fame reception following the induction ceremony;
- Act as the fiscal agent for the Whispers and Screams conferences for the Iowa Gender-Specific Services Task Force or for special events, such as the 75th anniversary of woman suffrage;
- Assist with costs associated with staff and/or commissioners to attend the National Association of Commissions for Women annual conventions or other important meetings, such as the 4th World Conference for Women in Beijing, China; and
- Administer the Endowment Fund assisting women with educational opportunities.

Friends raises funds by hosting a fundraising luncheon following the Iowa Women's Hall of Fame induction ceremony in August, where family and friends can extend the day's festivities. Friends also sponsors the annual Women You Know, Women You Want to Meet networking party in the Des Moines area. Friends does not charge dues – we simply rely on the general support of those who attend these wonderful events and those who provide donations. They make it possible to continue the important work we do. We would love to count you among our Friends. A donation of any size will help. Don't wait – please consider sending a gift today. Your contribution will make the difference.

Friends of ICSW Fundraising Luncheon

Kindred Spirits, involving the impersonation of Iowa women, will be coordinated by Maureen Korte during the fundraising luncheon on Saturday, August 21st at Younkers Tea Room in downtown Des Moines. Tickets will be $30 per individual. Advertising in the luncheon program is also available for varying fees.

Donations of $100 are also being accepted to allow one chaperone and three minors involved in juvenile justice programs to attend as your guests. This allows four people to attend who would not have been able to otherwise, and provides strong, positive female role models for girls. Please contact the office if you are interested and want further information for tickets, advertising or sponsoring girls.

Bits and Pieces

Experts in a broad range of disciplines are encouraged to submit workshop proposals for the November 15th Diversity Conference 2004 at the ISU Scheman Center in Ames. The topic of each workshop should be consistent with one of the theme elements: business, community, family, or youth. For more information, call 515/225-1051 or download the form at <http://www.iowadiversity.org/conference/index.html>.

As of 2002, there were 61,811 majority-owned, privately-held women owned businesses in Iowa, about 29 percent of all such businesses in the state, according to www.womensbusinessresearch.org.

Now through September 30th THE NAZI OLYMPICS Berlin 1936 at the State Historical Building in Des Moines. This exhibit provides a different look at Nazi Germany and the Holocaust through the lens of sport. The competition, human achievement, drama, politics, and spectacle that are associated with the Olympics were some of the most controversial in Olympic history.

The Program for Women in Science and Engineering and the College of Agriculture are partnering to offer a summer science experience for current high school females (participants must have completed 9th grade) from July 11-16 on the Iowa State campus. Explore all aspects of biodiversity from micro-organism in a petri dish, to butterflies, plants and North American bison. Brochure and application information for the first Biodiversity Institute is at <http://www.pwse.iastate.edu/outreach/agsummercamp.html>.

A new website has been developed that highlights majors/careers in science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) at Iowa State University. You'll find video clips of interviews with nine different ISU women. Plus, there are links to information about every single science, technology, engineering and math-related major at ISU! Check it out, <http://www.pwse.iastate.edu/outreach/exploringcareers.html>.
